Fried's Cat Shelter

Letter from the Director

Dear Loyal Supporters,

As always, thank you for your continued support. Through your generous donations we have been able to continue doing the repairs that are needed.

The current project we have been working on are the repairs to boarding. That room is totally being overhauled with new tile on the floor, replacing the broken plexi-glass dividers, and new plastic wall panels in all 11 bins. Even the window balconies are getting a new coat of paint. Still to come are new doors for all bins. Below are some before and during repair pictures. The bins will be completed by Open House, but we will include some after pictures in our next newsletter for those who won't be able to attend our Open House.

We would love to see you at our Summer Open House. Below is the notice of dates and times.

Sincerely,

Sandra O'Dell

Hi Human Friends,

The never ending winter is finally over and guess what: It's kitten season again! This year it started very early. Kindle was brought in on February 26. He was less than a week old. The next day the lady who brought him in found his mother. Someone had taken her to the Humane Society a few days earlier. We went there and picked her up to reunite her with her son. In recognition, our humans named the mother Missy after the kind lady whose name was Melissa. Both are up for adoption; their pictures are right next to mine on this page.

Unfortunately none of the FIV+ cats featured in our last newsletter has found a forever home. I realize that all of you who are able to already have at least one cat, and you do not want to add a cat that may contaminate your resident companion. But could you let your friends and neighbors know that there are such cats available: If you don't have a copy of our newsletter anymore, you (and they) can find it on our website www.friedscatshelter.org.

Sandy will tell you about our biggest repair project. But we also had some less visible repair work done. In all our hallways, the old T12 light fixtures were replaced by bright new (and longer lasting) T8 fixtures. We also had some pesky plumbing problems fixed. Yay!!!

My brothers and sisters hope to see you at our Open House.

Sincerely,

Charlie, Jr.

CAT FACTS

"Sociable" cats will follow you from room to room to monitor your activities throughout the day.

Give your cat a quality scratching post to deter her from scratching your furniture. Still scratching? Try putting lemon scent or orange scent on the area. Cats hate these smells.

HOMES NEEDED

Pouncer & Linda

Two absolutely gorgeous siblings. Greyscale doesn't do Linda justice with her patchwork quilt of tabby markings and tortie orange.

Luke & Ian

Came in together, and been together since Ian was a kitten and Luke a year old. Ian is very shy and needs Luke. Can you give them a forever home together?
